Problem Sets
Over the course of the semester between five (5) and ten (10) problem sets will be assigned. Typically, these homework assignments will be assigned on the last day of class for that particular week, and due at the beginning of the next class period. Problem sets are open-notes and open-book. You are encouraged to work on problem sets in groups, but you will need to be prepared to explain solutions to all problems individually at the board in class. Problems sets will be graded S/U, with S being full marks for the assignment and U being zero marks for the assignment.

Exams
Exams cover all lectures and reading assignments. It is the student’s responsibility to ask questions if they do not understand lecture or reading materials. Exams will be in-class and held regular class meeting time. Make-up exams will only be provided in the event of an approved absence (e.g., conference attendance) or under extraordinary circumstances (e.g., medical emergencies). See the university guidelines on absence for more information.

Attendance and Absence Policy
Attendance will not be included in student assessment but is strongly advised as the in-class discussion may diverge from the text.

Academic Honesty
Students are required to be honest in their coursework. Any act of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Dean of Students, and may result in failure of the assignment in question and/or the course. For University of Florida’s honor code, see http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/honorcodes/honorcode.php.
Accommodations for Students with Disabilities
